

Moderator

XU Liyan

Division Director, Division 3, Bureau of Import & Export Food Safety, AQSIQ.

She graduated from Dalian Polytechnic University and holds a Bachelor degree on industrial fermentation. She was in charge of the standardization of import & export food, cosmetics and inspection & quarantine supervision of import & export cosmetics. She is now responsible for inspection & quarantine supervision on alcoholic beverage, soft drinks, dairy products, health food, seasonings and nut products.

Javier BURCHARD

Key Expert for Component of Agriculture, Agri-food and SPS of EU-China Trade Project. He has over 30 years of professional experience from Canada, Latin America and China working in animal health, public health and food safety. Mr. Burchard is a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine and has a M.Sc. and Ph.D in Animal Science from McGill University. He has extensive experience working to modernize agricultural and food safety practices to ensure compliance with international standards, including those of OIE and WTO. For his most recent assignment he has been working in China for almost three years on a CIDA-funded project which focuses on enhancing institutional capacity at the national and provincial level and supporting China's reform and implementation of food safety and veterinary public health policies.

Speaker

HAN Yi

Deputy Division Director, Division 3, Bureau of Import & Export Food Safety, AQSIQ.

He got a bachelor degree in public health from Beijing Medical University in 1995 and a master degree in European Integration and Development from Free University of Brussels in 2005. He has worked in Economic & Commercial Counselor's Office of Chinese Mission to the European Communities for 5 years. He is now in charge of alcoholic beverage, functional food, dietary food, labeling of prepackaged food in AQSIQ.

Ersilia MOLITERNO

EU official working for the European Commission, in the Directorate General for Agriculture and Rural Development, Wine and Spirits Unit. She is in charge of the management of the Spirit Drink Regulation and related implementing rules. She is also responsible of the technical assistance in the framework of bilateral relations and agreements in the field of wine and spirit drinks. In addition, she is in charge of cooperation with the Commission services responsible for health and consumer protection issues, as regards in particular wine and spirits.

Hans Peter REUST

He comes from Switzerland, with the love to Chinese culture, history, people and food.

He believes in Chinese power and commits himself with his experience in Europe, Asia and America in last 30 years in agriculture. He built up Star Farm team from scratch from China in 2007. After 5 years, it has 40 people in the team, served more than 700 suppliers, 1,200 staff from supplier, 25,000 farmers and helped 2000 traceability products in market. He has done all these with great passion and strong belief of the strong China with transparency and sustainability.

Mathias GRIMA

Customs Officer working in the wine sector service at the French Ministry of Budget.

Graduated in political sciences and administration, he has worked for almost 8 years for French Customs. After an experience in managing a team controlling tobacco and alcoholic beverages companies, he had an experience in business consulting for international trade in Customs headquarters in the west suburbs of Paris.

He's been working in the wine sector at the Ministry of Budget in Paris for 2 years, and more especially deals with imports and exports questions of wine, relationship with professional organizations and other administrations controlling wine sector and with the European Common Market Organization regulation in wine sector.

Jean-Claude RUF

Scientific coordinator and Head of Unit "Enology - Safety & Health - Methods of analysis" at OIV. He obtained a Ph.D in Human Biology from the University of Lyon in 1993. Since then he has been working in the field of enology. He is responsible for scientific coordination of the different OIV Units the OIV experts. He participates in the development of International OIV standard in wine technology and enological practices in the wine making process.

WANG Jun

Deputy Director of Food Safety Standard and Supervision Technical department, National Institute of Nutrition and Food Safety, China CDC. She is Member of National Committee for the Review of Food Safety Standards, Member of National Standardized Technical Committee of Beverage and Member of Microbial Toxin Speciality Committee, Chinese Academy of Microbiology.

Professor Wang used to work in laboratory detection and analysis, risk assessment of hazards in foods, etc. Now she is responsible for food safety standards planning and management, and daily operation of the secretary office of National Committee for the Review of Food Safety Standards. She has been responsible and recently participated in the establishment of dairy safety standard, contaminant standard and beverage standard. Professor Wang has managed or participated in many research projects including the National "Eleventh Five-year" scientific research projects- Study and Development of Important Food Safety Standards, Study on Safety Assessment of Food Additive; the Society Public Welfare Special Projects-Study on the Application of Microbiology Risk Assessment in Food Borne Disease Control in China; and the projects from Ministry of Science and Technology -Study on Development of Hygiene Standard System, and so on. She has published 14 scientific articles in the first author, 2 major standards and 2 monographs. One of her article "Assessment of the Dietary Aflatoxins Exposure in Chinese Residents" has received the first prize from Beijing Food Society.

WANG Gang

Mr. WANG Gang commenced working for Certification and Accreditation Administration of the PRC (CNCA) in 2002, and now he is Deputy Director of Registration Department in charge of import and export food manufacturers registration concerning of European, Oceania and American countries. At his position, WANG works with foreign veterinary health and public health authorities all along, including EU-SANCO, EU-FVO, US-FSIS, US-FDA, covering various areas such as manufacturers' approval and inspection, equivalent evaluation of meat inspection, seafood HACCP verification and etc.

He graduated from China Agricultural University in 2002, majored in Veterinary Medicine, DVM.

Jean-François ROUCOU

With 25 years of experience in the agroindustry, JF Roucou has spent the last 19 years in the wines and spirit industry, where has been involved in Research & Development, Production, and Quality Management.

Graduated as an Engineer in Agronomy at the Institut National Agronomique Paris-Grignon in France, he first worked in rural development and agricultural research and extension, first in the Caribbean island of Dominica, then in People's Democratic Republic of Laos.

He then worked for Interagra, a French group engaged in agro-equipment projects in a number of countries including Laos (where he was based), Vietnam, Russia and China.

After that he joined Pernod Ricard, a leader of the industry of wines and spirits, first as a Research & Development Engineer, then as Vice-President Operations for Martell in Cognac, and finally as Technical Vice-President at the headquarter of the Group. His present mission includes coordination of Quality, Health & Safety, Environment and Manufacturing Performance policies for the Group, with production activities in 30 countries.

Tony W. HUANG

Assisting General Manager, Quality & Safety, China Foods Co., Ltd, COFCO Group. He has a bachelor degree on food engineering and a master degree on project management. He is the member of TWG of GFSI. He has 21 years of managerial experience in food industry and fast consuming products, including 11 years in COFCO Coca-Cola (China). He is quite familiar with GMP concepts, Quality Management and Food Safety systems. He has accumulated rich experience in systematic management skills in production, engineering, warehouse, procurement, logistics, quality control, D&OP (Demand and Operation Planning), etc.

He started to work in China Foods Co., Ltd from 2009 on. He is now in charge of establishment of food quality and food safety risk management system for plants under the 5 categories of enterprises, such as soft drinks, wine, kitchen food, leisure food, convenience foods.

Sylvain NAULIN

Deputy Secretary General of CEEV (Comité Vins), responsible for regulatory and external trade departments.

He has over 15 years of professional experience in the French and European wine sector.

Mr NAULIN is an engineer in agronomy (from Bordeaux) specialized in agriculture and wine economy.

A great part of his career was spent in the French Ministry of Agriculture, as teacher of economy in a school specialized in the wine sector in the Beaujolais region, then in a regional administration in Burgundy as coordinator for the wine sector.

The international side was done when being in charge of international relations for the wine at the French Ministry of Agriculture, responsible of the negotiations of the new EU legal framework for wine and delegate at the OIV.

From 2009, Mr NAULIN is in charge of the regulatory and external trade departments for CEEV, the representative body of the wine industry and trade in Europe.